Dalton Explains Enrollment Process

-By Jerry Demel
Leader Staff Reporter

Students who chuckled at the idea of a number replacing a person's name in a recent Peanuts comic strip episode will find that idea becoming a reality when they enroll for second semester classes Jan. 27-30.

Automation in the form of an IBM data processing computer has been installed at FHS to handle enrollment cards.

Students' grades, grade reports and rosters will be sorted and distributed by the student identification number which will be the person's Social Security number. The number will be put on the permit cards and from that number the computer will type on the name and record the data.

It is important that students have a Social Security number by enrollment time. "Many young people who haven't been gainfully employed don't have numbers," said Standlee V. Dalton, registrar.

Dalton warns that it will be impossible for the Hays Social Se-

ASC Sends Fund Dispute to Student Court

In a meeting on the brink of not having a voting quorum by the time it was completed, All-Student Council moved to send the issue of approval of funds for United Christian Fellowship to the Student Court.

The action, instigated by Mike Butler, graduate representative, highlighted Tuesday night's meeting, which also included passing a resolution to discontinue the Fort Hays Follies this year, another to close the Memorial Union during assemblies and the selection of two monthly honor recipients.

Butler opened the action against ASC's approval of $150 for UCF by moving to rescind the motion to give the money, but the motion died for lack of a second.

Butler pointed out the reasons for his motion by citing sections from the Kansas Constitution and the Kansas Bill of Rights, which state that "No religious sect or sects shall ever control any part of the common-school or university funds of the state" and "nor shall any person be compelled to attend or support any form of worship," respectfully.

ASC member Phil Aldrich moved to send the issue to Student Court to obtain a ruling. The motion passed.

Upon request of the Union Program Council for ASC to express its feelings on the Follies, the council passed the resolution for the discontinuance of the annual event, on "condition that they will be continued next year as part of the Fort Hays Furlough."

The Program Council, now in charge of the Follies, requested such an opinion because of lack of support in finding people qualified to handle directing, producing and organization.

Jerry Sherrill, fraternity representative, introduced a resolution to close the student union during all assemblies, on the grounds that it would provide a situation where more students would attend assemblies. The resolution was accepted.

Neither of the resolutions are binding on ASC and only pledge the council's support of such action. Both issues will be reconsidered when ASC convenes following the holidays, when it is hoped a larger and more representative council will be on hand, according to council president Eldon Fleury.

In other action taken by ASC, instructor of political science John Tomlinson was selected Professor of the Month, and Sherrill, Burton senior, was named Junior Rotarian of the Month.

Leichliter Washes Hands Of Fund Issue

"It has been charged that it is fiscal insanity to try to operate the ASC without a budget, and I completely agree with this charge," Kent Leichliter, president of Associated Students told All-Student Council members in his regular semester message Tuesday night.

"I apologize for any fault that is mine in this matter," Leichliter continued. "However, I am now absolving myself of any further responsibilities until the finance committee draws up a budget."

"I have given my opinions that we needed a budget each time that ASC has allotted money to organizations, but neither the council or the finance committee has seen fit to heed my warnings."

"Now is the time for ASC to take a long look at how it is handling the funds allotted to it," he said.

"It is interesting to note that Pittsburg's ASC handles $8,000 and Emporia has $38,000," Leichliter continued. "I would say, that based on this fall's ASC record, it is hardly competent to handle the $2,000 that we now have."

In Leichliter's speech he also expressed his feelings toward The Leader editorial policy. "In my opinion we now have a news media that is truly more independent than it has been in several previous years," he said.

"I say that it is independent in that its editors seem to feel free to agree with either the administration or the students. It has seemed in previous years that the editor of the paper has always been in complete agreement with the reactionary rabble that is found on every campus."

Leichliter also proposed that ASC offer the president of the Associated Students some monetary compensation in future years.

"... investigation will show that other state colleges and universities offer reimbursement of tuition and fees to their heads of student government," he said. "The president does enough work to qualify. It might also enhance better qualified personnel to this position."

The appointment of a committee to investigate giving keys to upperclasswomen living in residence halls or giving them later hours was also advocated by Leichliter.

Debaters Win Tourney Trophy

After attempting the feat for many years, FHS debaters won a trophy at the Southwestern University tournament last weekend.

Losing the championship by a 2-1 split decision to Hutchinson Junior College, the team of Dick Scott and Steve Tramel took the second place trophy in the junior men's division.

In a tournament which is reputedly the oldest meet in the nation, attracting nearly 50 college and university teams, Scott and Tramel lost only to Emporia State and Hutchinson while defeating seven other teams.

In the women's division Connie Leuty and Cheryl Bentley tied for second place in number of rounds won but lost the tourney on number of speaker's points.

Miss Leuty also won recognition in her individual event, salesmanship. In the first individual event she had ever entered, she advanced to the final rounds before being eliminated.

Holiday Greetings

We would like to extend greetings to the students and staff of Fort Hays State as expressed in this Christmas prayer.

Let us pray that strength and courage abundant be given to all who work for a world of reason and understanding that the good that lies in every man's heart may day by day be magnified that men will come to see more clearly not that which divides them, but that which unites them that each hour may bring us closer to a final victory, not of nation over nation, but of man over his own evils and weaknesses that the true spirit of this Christmas Season — its joy, its beauty, its hope, and above all its abiding faith — may live among us that the blessings of peace be ours — the peace to build and grow, to live in harmony and sympathy with others, and to plan for the future with confidence.

President and Mrs. M. C. Cunningham

Although intended for the youngsters of students and the faculty, it appears the older set also drew some attention.

'Frenzy' Describes Wolfe's Approach Says Dr. Coder

"Frenzy—that's the only word I can find (and it's my own) to describe the way Thomas Wolfe approached writing," said Dr. Ralph Coder, dean of graduate office and professor of English at an American Novels Lecture Tuesday in the Memorial Union Coder Room.

Dr. Coder was reviewing "Look Homeward, Angel," an autobiographical novel about Wolfe's own family and Southern hometown.

The book drew both ecstatic praise and severe criticism when it came out in 1929. Asheville, N.C., the town written about in the novel was indignant. Wolfe's sister, Mabel, called Helen in the novel commented, "The only reason we weren't tarred and feathered is because he didn't even spare us." Wolfe's mother, who plays a major role in the plot, refused to read past the first chapter in which she was mentioned.

"Look Homeward, Angel" is about a young man who can't find his way in the world. It tells of the author's own pursuit of life.

"Wolfe assessed life by living it," Coder said. In his books sought to express truth of life as he sees it.

Wolfe, who was only 37 when he died in 1928, also wrote "Of Time and the River," "You Can't Go Home Again," and "The Web and the Rock."

Phi Kappa Phi Accepts 21 New Members

The Fort Hays Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society elected 15 undergraduates and six graduate students to its rolls recently.

An initiation and informal reception for the new members will be held at 4:30 p.m. Jan. 8 in the Memorial Union Black Room.

Seniors elected are: Bernice Bell, Burrton; Virginia Bornholdt, La Crosse; Jean DeBoer, Prairie View; Robert Dreiling, Victoria; Rex Gaskill, Hutchinson; Sharon Kaye Horyna, Hanston; Carol Hyer, Bucklin; Larry Kershner, Larned; Alberta Klaus, Hays; Luvena Lally, Russell; Kim McCoy, Topeka; Daniel McGovern, Great Bend; Claudia Peacock, Great Bend; Barbara Thomas, Palco, and Judith Ubert, Hays.

Graduate members elected are Gerald Aiken, Osborne; Gary Donart, Johnson; Delores Eulert, Norton; Rose King, Hays; Danny Martin, Chase, and Ramon S. Powers, Gove.

Phi Kappa Phi recognizes scholarship in all areas of academic endeavor. No more than ten per cent of the senior class may be elected, and graduate students and faculty members whose work merits recognition may also be elected.

Phi Kappa Phi is based on the conviction that by recognizing and honoring those who have excelled in scholarship, other students may be inspired to work for high rank.

In recent years, the Fort Hays Chapter has also elected a junior with an outstanding academic record as a junior scholar.

Foreign Students Plan Trips To Distant Global Points

International students at FHS will travel to distant points around the globe during the 16-day Christmas vacation period.

Logging the most miles will be H. B. Patel, who will fly to Bombay, India, to see members of his family.

However, the most time on the road will be spent by Luis Contreras of Guatemala and Carlos Arias of Colombia, who are planning "four days on the road" in their 3,000-mile drive to Guatemala. Aris will fly from Guatemala to his home.

Four international students, Martha Aguirre of Uruguay, Renate Hausin of Germany, M. M. Patel of India and Ahmadulla Don-to of Tibet, will join a FHS delegation of 19 who will attend the 19th Ecumenical Student Conference on the Christian World Mission in Athens, Ohio. The group will leave Dec. 26 and return Jan. 3.

Visits with friends will highlight the holiday agendas for Kozo Terada of Japan, who will travel to Oakland, Calif.; Tae-Chung Chan of Hong Kong, who is going to Montreal, Canada, and Ricardo Landes of Cuba, who will visit in Omaha.

Three students will enjoy the vacation with their husband or wife. Young Lee of Korea will visit his wife in Colorado Springs; Turker Apaydin of Turkey will spend the holidays with his family in Larned, and Anne Putuhena Johnson of Indonesia will join her husband in Kansas City.

A job in Denver will occupy

Stephen Yow of Hong Kong and Teodora Robles of Peru will work in Dodge City.

About 10 or 15 of FHS's 37 international students plan to spend the vacation in Hays working and studying. Dean of Women Jean Stouffer urges area residents to help brighten the Christmas season for this group by inviting them to visit in their homes. Anyone interested may contact Miss Stouffer at the college.

Wedding Plans Changed Because Of Korean Custom

Because of an old Korean custom, wedding bells will ring the Christmas holidays for S. Bok Kim, a Korean student FHS.

Kim will marry a former FHS student, Nam Sok Choi, in Brooklyn on Dec. 28.

The two Koreans had originally planned to be married in January after the first semester, but a custom in their country prohibits two members of the same family from marrying in one year.

Choi's sister plans to be married next year, so, to comply with the custom, he and Kim moved their wedding date to this year.

Choi received his master's degree in chemistry from FHS in 1962 and is now working on a doctorate in chemical engineering at Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute.

Kim enrolled at FHS last fall to take courses in English and home-making before her marriage.

curity office to process a rush of applicants at any one time because only a few numbers are allotted to each office, and it would take about 10 days to provide several hundred numbers for enrolling students.

He urged all present and future students who don't have Social Security numbers to obtain them now in their home town or at the Hays office.

Dalton said use of Social Security cards will provide two advantages: The student will have only one number to remember and there will never be duplicate numbers.

Enrollment procedure for the spring semester will not be greatly changed, although the time required will be reduced. Students who are not delayed at their adviser's office or in picking up class slips may finish in 45 minutes.

Students will pick up permits to enroll and a standard packet of IBM cards in the arena of Sheridan Coliseum. Included in the packet are cards for telephone, housing, automobile, education accounting, placement office, health service, dean of students, news service, church affiliation and two cards for class schedules.

Information on these cards is limited and many of the questions can be answered by check marks or by circling an answer. The student will fill out the two cards showing his class schedule, one of which he will keep.

Enrollees will confer with advisers and are asked to fill out the cards in one of the classrooms, which will be available for that purpose, before going to the Memorial Union to draw class slips. It is hoped that in the classrooms students will fill out the cards accurately and protect them from damage, which could render them useless.

Enrollment fees will not be assessed or paid during the three days of enrollment, but will be paid the following week on an alphabetical schedule.

Students who do not pay within the time limits will be automatically and impartially withdrawn from classes by the IBM machine.

"The growth of the college to its present enrollment has brought the need for a computer to handle processing," said Dalton. The computer is rented from International Business Machines.

The computer was used for classes in business data processing this fall and for handling the student payroll. It is composed of two key punches, a verifier, interpreter reproducer, collator, sorter and the computer.

Following his graduation from college he taught three years in the Lane County Community High School, then taught American government in Shawnee Mission High School for five years.

He has served as a member of the Kansas State Teachers Assn. Classroom Teacher Committee and is affiliated with these honorary and professional organizations: Phi Kappa Phi (scholastic), Pi Gamma Mu (social science), Pi Sigma Alpha (political science).

In further action at the meeting, it was voted to dissolve a committee created for the investigation of the sale of basketball tickets. In correlating action, a committee was formed to work with President M. C. Cunningham toward establishing better basketball seating procedures.

Jim Rock, chairman of the finance committee said a budget would be submitted at the next meeting.

State Schools, Wichita Meet To Combat School Problems

With the purpose of discussing and offering solutions to the various problems confronting the state supported schools of Kansas in mind, the first annual Conference of Higher Education was held at the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Saturday.

Representatives from the five state schools and the University of Wichita, passed two resolutions concerning higher education in Kansas.

Recognizing that highly trained students are graduating yearly and finding it necessary to leave the state to secure adequate job opportunities, the conference resolved that:

The state of Kansas exert a greater effort to attract the type of business and industry that would offer adequate and varied opportunities to these graduates.

The second resolution concerned the financial problems encountered by higher education in Kansas.

Stating that the current system is not sufficient to meet future demands of our students and citizens, the representatives resolved to "urge all interested citizens of Kansas to support the recommendation of Mr. Henry Bubb, chairman of the Kansas State Board of Regents, in his request for a one-half cent sales tax increase, earmarked for education.

Acting independently, the conference's committee of student government problems encouraged increased control by student government of the finance, supervision and coordination of student activities.

NOTE: The classes which meet for 75 minutes on Tuesday and Thursday will meet for their final examination at the time of the full 50-minute period used by the class. That is, a class meeting at 9:35 to 10:50 will meet at the time for the 10:00 o'clock exam period on Tuesday, and a class meeting at 8:00 to 9:15 will meet for the examination at the time for the 8:00 exam period for Tuesday classes.

A final examination period has been established for the sake of uniformity in completing the work of respective courses.

All classes shall meet for at least one hour at the time indicated on the examination schedule for the final summing up of the work of the course. Whether this "final summing up" is a written examination or a discussion or other form of summarization is for the instructor to decide. But, whatever the form, it should be a most profitable period to the student and instructor for a final checking up of the course. Under no circumstance should this scheduled period be omitted, changed, or be made of no importance.

No student is permitted to take an examination before the scheduled time for the examination.

A student who is unable to take the final examination at the scheduled time is required to pay a fee of $3.00 for each examination to be taken. The $3.00 fee shall be paid to the Business Office and the receipt showing payment must be presented, before taking the examination, to the person administering the examination.

Any student having more than three (3) examinations scheduled on the same day may make arrangements with the Dean of the Faculty to have an adjustment made in his examination schedule.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I write this letter partially to condone the action taken by the Associated Student Council in their appropriation of funds to Alpha Phi Omega and partially to elucidate a few important facts omitted, perhaps not intentionally, from the letter of Michael W. Butler on Dec. 12.

The name of our organization is Alpha Phi Omega and not Alpha Psi Omega. The former is a national service fraternity; the latter is a dramatics honorary. The letter, as it appeared in the Leader, led a person to believe that ASC was buying blazers for APO, who however, received only $4.70 per member—hardly enough to buy a blazer.

Some doubt as to whether or not the value of the service of APO would be increased by the wearing of blazers was expressed. In order to alleviate some, if not all, of this skepticism let us look at a few of the service projects carried out this semester by Alpha Phi Omega.

Alpha Phi Omega sold Tiger Ties for the Endowment Assn. during Homecoming, assisted police at the Homecoming football game and parade, sold tickets and provided gatemen for the Endowment Assn. during the pre-season basketball game, assisted with the welcoming of scouts on scouting night, originated the Campus Blood Donors for Hays and the surrounding area, assisted ASC with balloting and drafted ushering rules for the Artists and Lectures Series.

In the majority of these projects it is necessary for the members of Alpha Phi Omega to be associated with people who are unassociated with FHS. Alpha Phi Omega gives these people an impression of FHS. The appearance of the group is improved by blazers and in this manner the value of the service rendered is increased.

Is Alpha Phi Omega so unique that it should receive aid while Seventh Cavalry, Women's Leadership Organization, and the "K" Club remain unaided?

The answer to this question lies in the differences of the programs of the groups. Seventh Cavalry and Women's Leadership Organization are organized mainly to promote leadership. "K" Club is organized to encourage the best in athletics.

Michael W. Butler, you may yet get a blazer. Join Alpha Phi Omega and pledge three to four hours of service to your campus per week and I will personally relinquish to you the $4.70 which was to be used to pay for a portion of my blazer.

Roger Rupp, President
Alpha Phi Omega

Christmas Brewings

In a day when materialism and commercialism delay the arrival of the Christmas spirit for many people it would be well to ponder the ideas brought forth in "Keeping Christmas" by Henry Van Dyke:

Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you; to ignore what the world owes you, and to think of what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance, and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; . . . to close your book to complaints against the management of the universe, and look around you for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness—are you willing to do these things even for a day?

Then you can keep Christmas. Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs and the desires of little children; to remember the weaknesses and loneliness of people who are growing old; . . . to bear in mind the things that other people have to bear in their hearts; to try to understand what those who live in the same house with you really want, without waiting for them to tell you; to trim your lamp so that it will give more light and less smoke, and carry it in front so that your shadow will fall behind you; to make a grave for your ugly thoughts and a garden for your kindly feelings, with the gate open—are you willing to do these things even for a day?

Then you can keep Christmas. Are you willing to believe that love is the strongest thing in the world—stronger than hate, stronger than evil, stronger than death—and that the blessed life which began in Bethlehem nineteen hundred years ago is the image and brightness of the Eternal Love?

Then you can keep Christmas. And if you keep it for a day, why not always?

But you can never keep it alone . . . — Norman Brewer

Students View Classroom as Teachers

By Martha Roberts
Leader Editorial Assistant

With eight weeks of practice teaching nearly completed for more than 100 FHS seniors who expect to teach school next year, many agree that the experience "on the other side of the desk" has been one of the highlights of their college education.

"This has been an invaluable experience—the most valuable experience of my college years—but it is not a 'vacation' as some people think," said Amy Graves, Burdett.

As in most professions which have a training program, practice teaching affords the trainee the opportunity to learn "first-hand" what his job will require. The student is under the guidance of a master teacher, who is supervisor and consultant and, who eventually lets the student-teacher assume most of the responsibility of the classroom.

"It's not like having your own classroom and own students because of the stress of being graded, the newness of responsibility and the lack of freedom to do exactly as you want," said Jane Schnobelen, Lewis, "but it gives you a very good idea of what it will be like."

Acquiring the skills of making lesson plans, grading papers, giving tests, preparing bulletin boards and coping with discipline problems takes much time and energy, according to most of the practice teachers.

"It takes considerable work to stay ahead of the students. Much of my time is spent re-reading old textbooks and doing research," said Mary Gross, Hays.

Margaret Kraisinger from Great Bend points out, "Five classes of high school teaching keeps me much busier than when I was enrolled in regular college courses."

One of the biggest problems of teaching at the elementary level which confronts the student teachers is communication at a lower level than they are accustomed. "I'm never quite sure they are understanding what I am saying," said Jim Copp, Gorham.

Carol Tomascheck, Zurich, related in incident that exemplifies the occasional lack of communication.

"I assigned my students to write a telephone conversation using the new words they had learned. When I called for the papers, all but one student had bewildered looks on their faces."

"I asked them if they had trouble with the assignment. When they answered in the affirmative, I realized that I should have included one more word in their new vocabulary for one little girl shyly asked, 'What does conversation mean?'"

While much of their day involves work, many amusing incidents keep the sessions lively.

One day, when he was feeling particularly brave, a small boy cheerfully greeted Miss Schnobelen with a "Hi ya, Jane!" "The name is Miss Schnobelen," he was told. The next day, he came quietly up to Jane and said, "Good morning, Miss Snorgleman."

For several days in a row Kathleen O'Loughlin noticed a small blue coat hanging directly beside hers. It was not merely coincidental that this coat hung in this special place every day, for the young owner proudly exclaimed to her big sister, "I'm the luckiest girl in the whole class; I've beat everyone else to the cloak room for five days so I could hang my coat next to Miss O'Loughlin's."

College observers create quite a stir in the classroom. As Dr. Edith Dobbs, assistant professor of education, came to visit one class, whispers shot across the room with the same question from all: "Whose mother is that?" Common questions raised after a visit from one of the male observers are "Is that your boy friend?"

For at least one student teacher, this period of practice teaching has proven more lucrative than just providing experience. Mary Gross, practice teaching in Spanish at Hays High, has been asked by one of her master teachers, Mrs. Reginald Reindorp, to accompany her for six weeks in Mexico next summer. Miss Gross will start work on a master's degree in Spanish while there.

All of the students interviewed agreed that teaching is a great field and a very worthwhile one. "The 'trainee' program has been a rewarding and memorable one," said one practice teacher, "but boy, is it a long time from 8 to 5 without a cigarette!"

JUST A HAIR MORE — Father Earl Meyer, Hays, demonstrated the use of a scale in solving a physics problem.

"WHY?" — This favorite word of grade school children is posed Patricia McCall, Salina, (left) and Kathleen O'Loughlin, Hays.

"I KNOW!" — Selecting from students eager to recite is sometimes difficult, finds Mrs. Carol Miller, Scott City.

The profits will be used to finance heart research work and educational equipment at Fort Hays State.

In a quarter of play matching Interfraternity Council and a wheelchair cage squad, IFC managed to garner a 30-30 tie, after being spotted 25 points. High for the council team were Bill Adams, Colby junior, and Tom Smith, Syracuse junior, who scored two points each.

TIGER VICTORY — One of the two Tiger wrestling wins Monday night against the Adams State grapplers was Jim Tinkler's decision over Joe Lee. Tinkler, a Russell heavyweight, won 3-0.

Adams State Grapplers Trip Tigers, Kearney Dual Today

FHS wrestlers meet Kearney (Neb.) State tonight at Kearney, after falling to a powerful Adams (Colo.) State squad, 21-8, Monday night in Sheridan Coliseum.

Last year against the Kearney Antelopes, the Tigers defeated them twice, 28-8 and 24-10. Kearney's heavyweight star, Don Hather, defeated Martin Landwehr, Wichita freshman, and Jim Tinkler, Russell senior, by one point in bouts last year. Hather will be at that position tonight.

FHS lineup at Kearney:

Lee Albert, Wichita junior, 123 pounds; Glenn White, Newton freshman, 130 pounds; Bob Brown, Oberlin freshman, 137 pounds; Dennis Hupfer, Russell freshman, or Tom Perkins, El Dorado freshman, 147 pounds; Vic Lyczak, North Brook, Ill., junior, 157 pounds; Dennis Bangert, Russell freshman; Delbert Erickson, Atwood senior, 177 pounds; and Tinkler, heavyweight.

The Adams State Indians won five matches of the eight matches in the opening dual for both teams.

Bengals victories came on decisions by White over John Perry, 11-6, in the 130 pound clash, and Tinkler over Frank Dolce, 3-0, in the heavyweight bracket.

Riding time proved advantageous to the Indians by costing the Bengals a decision and a draw. Lyczak was decided by Larry Wrede, 7-6, on the merit of riding time and in the 167-pound division there was a draw between Erickson and Marvin Collier, 6-6. Collier received one point for riding time.

Other results are:

137 pounds — John Perry, AS, decisioned Brown, 4-1.

147 pounds — Jim Deutsch, AS, pinned Hupfer, 2:58.

177 pounds — Frank Dolce, AS, pinned Bangert, 2:21.

White and Landwehr placed in the Great Plains AAU College open Invitational Meet Friday and Saturday at Lincoln, Neb.

White took third place in the 130 pound class by a forfeit.

Landwehr placed fourth by forfeiting in the consolation round. He was forced to withdraw from the action after receiving chest injuries in a match with Joe James, Oklahoma State, who took first place in the heavyweight bracket. Landwehr was pinned by James in the second period.

He will be out of action until after Christmas according to FHS coach Dave Winter.

PULLS ONE DOWN — Dick Schur, Tiger center, pulls down a rebound in the contest against Washburn University as Sam McDowell (41) and Tom Ashleman move in to assist him.

Tigers Drop CIC Opener To Washburn U., 93-89

The Bengals, down eight points in the first half, came back to tie the Ichabods, 38-38, at halftime. In the second half, the lead changed hands 11 times and the score was tied seven times, the last one on Washburn's game-tying basket by Gregg Gibb with 10 seconds left.

The overtime period was dominated by Washburn with the Tigers coming back to tie the score four times before the Ichabods managed to sink four winning points in the final minute.

Washburn led in shooting percentage with 48.9 per cent from the field, while the Tigers hit for only 36.7, their lowest of the year.

The taller Ichabods dominated the Tigers' backboard, but were edged out, 53-52, in total rebounding. FHS outshot Washburn from the free throw line, hitting 23 of 29 attempts to only 7 of 16 for WU.

The Tigers also improved their floor game by committing only six violations to nine for the Ichabods.

Leading scorers in the game were Sam McDowell for FHS with 26 points and Kenny Hendrix for Washburn also with 26 points. Following McDowell for the Tigers were Tom Ashleman with 23, Paul Vega with 16 and Gordon Stout with 12.

Leading rebounder for the Tigers, was Ashleman with 13, supported by McDowell with 11, Stout with 10, and Dick Schur with 9. Gibb led the rebounding charts for WU with 17.

Four Tilts On Tap

FHS Cagers on Road For Holiday Contests

"Before our game with Washburn, I was optimistic about our chances of winning. I figured they were pretty good and they were. They are big, perhaps the tallest in the CIC. Since we played them I feel that we are better now than before, and I think that we'll be right in the race for the championship," said Coach Cade Suran.

Suran was pleased with his cagers' efforts at Washburn, despite the loss.

Fort Hays State, after suffering its first loss of the season Saturday night at Washburn University, starts a four game streak against out-of-state teams Friday when they meet the Southern Colorado State College Indians at Pueblo.

In a previous meeting this season, the Tigers defeated SCSC, 112-110, in a wild, hectic battle at Sheridan Coliseum. This is the first year FHS has played the Indians, and in this second meeting, the Indians promise to be out to even the score.

Leading the Southern Colorado team will be Sam Moore, who scored 63 per cent of his field shots in the previous meeting and one free throw for 35 points, and Sam Batey, who hit for 32 counters.

In the first meeting of the two clubs, FHS jumped out to a 58-44 halftime lead only to have the Indians bounce back with 32 field goals and two free throws tying the score with 32 seconds left at 110-110. Neal Kinlund then hit two free throw shots with 12 seconds left to win the ball game for the Tigers.

In the games following that contest, Southern Colorado has won one and lost two for an overall record of 3-5.

Saturday night the Tigers move to Greeley, Colo. to play the Colorado State College Bears.

Last year, the Tigers defeated the Bears 108-71 at Sheridan Coliseum with Sam McDowell taking scoring honors with nine field goals and seven free throws for 27 points.

The Bears are coached by Dr. George Sage and have five returning lettermen.

Fort Hays State travels to Hutchinson Dec. 23, for a holiday doubleheader, playing Central Oklahoma State College of Edmond, Okla.

The Broncos have five returning lettermen and are led by Hermon Stevenson, 6-5 senior center; Bill Cotton, 6-5 junior forward; Buddy Armstrong, 6-2 sophomore forward; Willies Malone, 6-5 junior guard, and Luther Peques, 6-0 senior guard.

The Broncos are Oklahoma Collegiate Conference co-champs from last year and are coached by Mark Winters, SE Oklahoma State graduate.

The Tigers return home the first of the year to meet the Omaha University Indians at Sheridan Coliseum, Jan. 4.

The Indians have won four games and lost one thus far this season and will face Rockhurst of Kansas City, Saturday night. Next week Omaha U. will be playing in the Hastings Invitational Tournament.

Omaha has five returning lettermen led by Paul Kaster, 6-0 senior guard and second leading scorer last year with 10.1 average. Other players to sparkle the Indian attack are Charles Myers, 6-0 sophomore guard; Jim Myers, 5-9 junior guard, and Larry Villnow, 6-7 junior center.

In last year's meetings between the two schools, FHS won both games, 94-57 and 101-76. McDowell scored 21 points in each contest.

Leading scoring returnee for the Indians is Villnow, who scored 19 points in last year's clashes against FHS.

1,000 — Sam McDowell, 5-11 Smith Center senior, became the fourth cager in FHS history to score more than 1,000 points in his career Saturday night. McDowell ran his total to 1,005 with his 26-point production against Washburn. Other Tiger cagers over the 1,000 mark are Marvin Andrews, 1,054; Bud Moeckel, 1,050; and Mel Christensen, 1,016.

Bite of Brown Spider 's Not Always Fatal

The bite of the Brown Spider was one of the topics discussed at the annual meeting of the Entomological Society of America held recently in St. Louis.

In attendance was Neil Walker, assistant professor of zoology.

The Brown Spider is of particular interest in this area because it habitates here and its toxic bite can be lethal. However, its bite was not serious to a FHS student recently.

Although he was not able to thoroughly follow up the case of the local bite, Walker said, "It seems to be a different species of the type of brown spider that can kill."
